Anastasia Ivanova for Citizen K International

Anastasia Ivanova is a unique beauty with her long red hair. She did an editorial for Citizen K International. The natural redhead looked great in the editorial, where she was asked to wear sheer dresses. She was perfect for the editorial that showed that a woman can be classy even if one shows off some skin. And her red hair worked well with the colour palette of the editorial.

Anastasia was born in Izhevsk, Russia. She started a career as a synchronised swimmer, but an arm injury stopped ner in pursuing that path. Luckily this misfortune was a blessing that led her to successful modelling career. She has walked for Brands all across the globe. Some of the biggest names are Channel, Jean Paul Gautier, Giorgio Armani, and a lot more.

Aside from catwalks, she has also appeared on editorials for S Moda, Vogue Russia, Brides Russia, Forget Them, vogue Italia, Harper's Bazaar China, and Citizen K International, just to name a few. The model agency in Switzerland has no problem in finding her great jobs, because she embodies what a professional model should be. We are very happy she has signed with our model agency in Zurich.
